About Me

Hi my name is sooto abdullateef I'm a front-end developer with hands-on experience in building modern, responsive websites using HTML, CSS, Tailwind CSS, JavaScript, React, Vite, and Next.js. I enjoy bringing designs to life in the browser and focusing on clean, maintainable code.

I'm constantly learning and improving, always exploring new tools and techniques to level up my frontend skills. Right now, I'm focused on building real-world projects and becoming stronger at structuring complex layouts, managing state, and creating delightful user experiences. I'm actively looking for an opportunity where I can grow within a team, contribute meaningfully to projects, and learn from experienced developers. If you're looking for someone motivated, fast-learning, and genuinely passionate about frontend development—let's connect!
